

Tim Kelley

Empowering visionaries to create a new world

Many leaders are hungry for something new and different, something that challenges them to become more aware, more powerful, and better equipped to guide their organizations to greater significance and impact. Tim will give your audiences a window into a new world where they embody a more powerful and evolved form of leadership.

Speaking Topics

That Awkward Moment When You Realize Your Employees Don't Care

For most employees, work is a necessary evil and disengagement is a way of life. Research shows that attempts to motivate using compensation are doomed, though most organizations are unaware of this fact (or choose to ignore it.) How, then, can you unlock every person's innate desire to make a powerful, meaningful contribution through their work? Understand why traditional motivational tactics fall short and learn how to create a culture that unleashes the power, productivity and potential within every employee.

Three Myths That Are Destroying Business

A new paradigm of business is trying to emerge, but it is being held back by our collective beliefs about work, competition and money. In fact, many of the foundational axioms that underlie the structure and "best practices" of business have been disproven by research! Tap into the new business cultures and strategies that are emerging and learn how they can increase your company's productivity, engagement and profit.

Coopetition: The New Game of Business

Economics teaches that competition is the key to efficient markets and business success. But, is this belief actually true? Using competition as the foundation of business has some surprising, negative effects that most leaders are unaware of. Learn the biology, research and mathematics of "coopetition" the new strategy that can take your business to the next level.

"Tim is a powerful speaker and group leader and his work is of the highest caliber. Everyone in my organization was impacted by his insight and exercises."

~Marcia Wieder
America's Dream Coach, author of Making Your Dreams Come True

Some Previous Speaking Engagements

ING
IBM
NASA
Oracle
Mercy Hospital
SHIFT Network
The Global Summit
Family Business Network
World Business Academy
Institute of Noetic Sciences
Northern Iowa Presidents Club

Speaking topics continue on second page

New Paradigm
Global Leader™

To book Tim Kelley or to inquire about keynotes and workshops, please contact Ebonni at 1-888-406-0006 or email her at speaking@TruePurposeBook.com
For more videos, <http://www.youtube.com/timkelleyspeaks>

Mastering the New Paradigm: How to Wield Power in a Changing World

Today's leaders are increasingly aware of the impossibility of traditional leadership in our modern, changing world. More and more, the model of the heroic, hierarchical leader is both insufficient and one that even the best leaders cannot fulfill. Our rapidly evolving world needs strong leadership, but what kind of leadership? Learn the tools and skills you will need to create and lead engaged, motivated, powerful enterprises in the new, emerging society!

How our Economic System Is Damaging Society

Although many think of Economics as an abstract concept, in reality, the beliefs and assumptions behind it have a direct impact on our lives and are responsible for untold suffering. In fact, many of the most basic axioms of economic theory have been flatly disproven by research! Businesses and markets based on this shaky foundation will continue to generate financial crises and unpredictable results. Discover which economic assumptions are producing collective misery, and learn about the new beliefs that are guiding some companies to increased flexibility, growth and profit.

Vision of a New Society: Creating a Roadmap for Global Transformation

Leaders and change agents agree that the world is transforming, but into what? Does our future hold a new, evolved society or a descent into chaos and global breakdown? Consciously designing and creating an extraordinary civilization has never been more possible! The choice is ours, but the way forward is not clear. Learn why many efforts to change the world are unintentionally reinforcing the old paradigm and which principles and methods can succeed at finding the narrow, uncertain path to Humanity's greatest potential.

Who This Is For:

Tim's message has the greatest impact on audiences that feel compelled to create and accelerate positive change in the world. Groups that have responded extremely well to Tim and his sessions in the past include:

- Business leaders, including private business owners and family offices
- Politicians and their staffs
- Organizational consultants and executive coaches
- Non-profit leaders

"Tim was a brilliant choice for our opening keynote! His session got everyone thinking and talking and contributed directly to a very memorable summit. Tim's style is extremely engaging and interactive; many of the other speakers were inspired and referenced his talk throughout the conference. I strongly recommend Tim as a powerful presenter to any audience of business leaders!"

– Claudia Gomez

Executive Director, Family Business Network Colombia

Organizer, Family Business Network Latin American Summit

"Tim will give your audience a broader and deeper understanding of their motivations and the actions that will move them through the challenges that lie ahead of them. Any serious leader who desires to leave a legacy would do well to work with Tim."

– John Mitchell

Former president, Planters & LifeSavers Co.,

Former president, Business Printer Division, Lexmark International, Inc.

Tim Kelley is a global change agent and the author of True Purpose. He works with leaders in many fields to transform human institutions and evolve society to it's new form. Tim has trained over a thousand consultants, therapists and coaches in his methods. A graduate of MIT and a retired Navy commanding officer, he has worked with top leaders and executive teams from such companies as Nabisco, ING, Oracle,